Florida Hempfest 2019 is made possible by long-time Florida Resident, Rosemary Maseri. Rosemary has committed a lifetime of volunteer work for United Way, PTSA and personal advocacy for patient rights to access.

"My passion to help others began when I was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis in 2001. After losing my job because of my illness, I felt the need to dedicate my life to helping others whom have similar situations in their life," stated Rosemary. "And when presented with the opportunity to put the first Official Florida Hempfest in motion, I knew so many more people would have access to the education and information they need to help them find a better quality of life. That is what Florida Hempfest 2019 will be all about."

This year's event already secured sponsorship commitments from Florida's top dispensaries, with Trulieve committing to the event's Platinum Sponsor, providing support for the official opening ceremony, and support to patient and Hispanic discussion panels.

Darnell Williams, Community Events Coordinator for Trulieve, stated, "Trulieve is proud to be the Platinum Sponsor for Florida Hempfest. Events like these are a crucial part of our initiative to help educate Patients, Non-Patients and Physicians alike. We hope the cannabis community will join us on October 12th & 13th at Florida Hempfest in the spirit of education and celebration of the ability to get Relief... Naturally."

Additionally, Curaleaf committed to Florida Hempfest as the event's Gold Sponsor and will provide support to Veterans For Cannabis and the event's Veterans panel of speakers.

"As a leading provider of premium quality medical cannabis products, Curaleaf is proud to participate in this year's Florida Hempfest," shared Yesenia Garcia, Director of Marketing, Curaleaf Florida. "Our team looks forward to meeting Florida Hempfest attendees and sharing how medical cannabis may be an option that will allow them to live life well."

Florida Hempfest is highlighted by well-known cannabis artist, Kole Trent and his generous contribution of an original Nugtopia painting for the official event poster.
